

One Year Ago Today

"Lest We Forget"

BARNES ANIMALS

FEATURE OF BIG

SHOW NOVEMBER 15

The A. G. Barnes big four-ring wild animal circus will be remembered at Phoenix from the excellent performances given each spring for many seasons past. The show is touring this way and is scheduled to spread its great canvas here Nov. 15. Every wagon, car and calliope resounded with the music of the circus, together with gallons of the brightest high quality paints. An entire new wardrobe of rich hues, silks, satins and tons of jewels was made. The show which is primarily an animal exhibit, will have many new animals and more thrilling acts.

As an opening feature a fairyland fantasy is presented, "Alice in Wonderland." Barnes has taken Lewis Carroll's character of Alice from Wonderland and transported her into the realistic realm of his jungleland.

Rajah, a Royal Bengal Tiger, That Wrestles Hand and Claw With a Girl, Coming in Barnes Circus.

The arena setting represents a park in which is a rustic bench. Alice falls asleep upon this bench; fairies appear waving their wands whereupon a king in regal splendor arrives as if by magic. He, wishing to impress Alice, orders his royal hound to come forth. Then begins a pageant of wondrous beauty. Queens, kings, rajahs, pashas with their royal equipage, elephants with their mahouts in typical jungle outtings; caravans of camels, herds of zebras, droves of llamas, hundreds of ponies, and upon den of wild beasts are in the procession. Following the pageant, arenas and sawdust circles become a jungle joy as almost every species of wild and domestic beasts perform some circus feat. Beautiful girls and handsome men put the animals through their work and many hands furnish the music.

RED CROSS ROLL

CALL WHYS TELL

HOW TO COME IN

Why the November roll call? Because one year ago in November war ceased. The anniversary is a fitting time to give the Red Cross a vote of confidence. Your one dollar membership will do that and enable the Red Cross to continue its activities.

Why the necessity of these activities now that the war is over? Because the devastation caused by war is not over. For the next year, at least, in addition to the very definite peace program of the organization, the Red Cross will be giving attention to 30,000 returned soldiers, sailors and marines confined in American hospitals and will expend approximately $500,000 monthly in assisting thousands of families of the boys.

Why a Red Cross peace program? Because the Red Cross is better organized and equipped to act in disaster emergencies, to improve public health, sanitation and nursing conditions than any other existing organization. It also stands ready to supplement the work of other existing agencies where assistance is needed. Red Cross work at Corpus Christi, Red Cross on the Mexican border; first aid in the California forest fires; help in the influenza epidemic; aid to vocational soldier students in universities. All these are a part of the Red Cross peace time program.

Why continue to send money for relief abroad? Because there are still minor obligations the Red Cross is pledged to complete in the devastated countries. This foreign relief work is all but concluded and a very small percentage of one dollar membership funds secured will be used on the outside of the United States.

Why will the roll call be held more than a month in advance of the expiration of 1919 membership? Because it is the home coming Christmas of the soldiers. Many families are planning reunions and roll call workers would be difficult to enlist in December.

Turning over thrice unhurt; car mangled. Turning a triple somersault, the Ford car in which Ed Hausgen was driving was completely demolished yesterday while Hausgen who was thrown out on the last turn, escaped without injury. Amazed at his own good luck, Hausgen sat in the middle of the road after the accident and addressed the crowd: "Gee whiz," he said, "the car is hurt worse than I am."

The accident which caused the wreck of the machine occurred at Pifteenth avenue and the Camelback road when two Fords came together. Robert Quay who was in the other car was not hurt. As the cars met, his machine came to a dead stop while the other went madly on its way until there was comparatively nothing left of it. It tipped over three times, according to the account of the collision given at the sheriff's office.

TREKELL WILL BE DIRECTOR OF BANK

F. D. Trekell, a capitalist with large holdings in the Casa Grande valley, stopped off in Phoenix for the fair last Saturday while enroute to his winter home in Los Angeles.

Mr. Trekell, whose personal fortune runs well up into the seven figures, has extensive land and oil interests in Louisiana, is a stockholder in many banks scattered over the United States and was among the first to invest in a big block of stock in the new Commercial National bank soon to be opened in this city. He has also agreed to act on the directorate of this bank.

Mr. Trekell was loud in his praise of the fair and specially pleased with the exhibit of Casa Grande valley, which he felt would be a second Salt River valley sooner than most of us realized.

Sir Walter Raleigh introduced oranges as well as tobacco to England.

LOVE ROUGH SHOD

RIDES FEARLESSLY

TO SUPREME COURT

Still true to form, the course of true love is running most erratically in the case of Jose Albarado and Candelaria Saldana of Navajo county, even though they are married and therefore at a stage in the course of true love which normally is rated as the goal. For them, just as the famous old adage provides, the course of true love is running like a flivver on McDowell road.

The otherwise happy bridegroom is before the supreme court on allegations of making a false affidavit in regard to the age of Miss Saldana when he married in Navajo county on or about May 16, 1919. According to the affidavit, Albarado swore that the young woman was 18 years of age, when, as a matter of fact, it is claimed by her parents that she is no such thing.

The case came up originally in the Navajo county justice court and subsequently reached the superior court there where it was thrown out, the lovers thereupon deciding that they attained a nice smooth stretch in true love's highway.

The smooth stretch was short, however. County Attorney Thomas H. Greer of Navajo appearing as a road boss to chop things up a bit. He filed an appeal yesterday with the state supreme court and now the bride and groom are bumping the bumps again and must wait for the supreme court in due course to say whatever will be said.

The brides' parents, according to the appeal, have thus far neglected to bless the happy couple.

Cork trees grow in Sardinia. A tree is stripped of its bark only once in nine years.

AMUSEMENTS

"His Debt" at the Columbia

How a Japanese gambler paid his debt to the American girl who saved his life by spurring her lover, is depicted in Sessue Hayakawa's latest film offering, "His Debt," which will be offered as the feature attraction at the Columbia theater for the last time today.

The production is one of the best of Hayakawa's releases of the year and affords him many opportunities for the display of his superior talents. It shows him as the king of gamblers, honest but coldly indifferent to the passions of man. Supporting the famous Jap star is Jane Novak, Francis J. MacDonald and Fredrick Montague.

A Current Topics, Pathe travelogue and two-reel Century comedy are the supplementing program numbers for today. For Wednesday only the Columbia theater is offering Geraldine Farrar in "Shadows," one of the best offerings she has ever made.

"Let's Elope" at the Lamara

Marguerite Clark's new Paramount picture, "Let's Elope," which will play a three-day engagement at the Lamara beginning today, is the picture adaptation of the famous stage success of the same name. It tells the story of a dissatisfied married couple, each loving the other devotedly, but selfishly denying the right to happiness to each other, each so thoroughly engrossed in the seeking of their own happiness that they have overlooked the important fact that the happiness of one is contingent on the happiness of the other.

Columbia

Last Times Today

Sessue Hayakawa

IN

"His Debt"

CURRENT TOPICS

PATHE TRAVELOGUE

CENTURY COMEDY

Wednesday Only

Geraldine Farrar

IN

"SHADOWS"

The upshot of the matter is that the wife seeks solace in the company of another man, and other man being of that shallow disposition that he changes his affections from girl to girl with that same ease and alacrity as does a bee in seeking honey from various flowers. But the affair between the wife and the he-vamp concerns another woman, a victim of the charming manner of said he-vamp and this victim refuses to give up her hold on him. Burton Holmes finished out the program with his travelogue.

"The False Face" at the Strand

In what has been reviewed as one of the strongest and most unique photoplays ever written, Henry B. Walthall, surrounded by an exceptionally brilliant cast, comes to the Strand for a three-day stay in the Thomas H. Ince masterpiece, "The False Face." This is a Paramount Artcraft special, produced with absolutely no regard for expense or elaborateness.

The story is one that will grip an audience from the very first foot of film. Its appeal is never ending, growing steadily with the development of the plot. Its punch is a consistent one, always present and always most decided. Its plot strikes home to the heart of every man, woman and child who will see it.

This feature will be offered in conjunction with a Briggs comedy and the Pathe news, with the Strand symphony orchestra, heard in a specially arranged program.

"Baby Grands" at the Hip

The baby grands, Jane and Katherine Lee, finish up their engagement at the Hip with the final showings today of "Tell It to the Marines," that knockout comedy offering which brings them to the city for this stay.

"Tell It to the Marines" is only a title, for every picture has to have a title, if for no other reason than a designation, but there was never a motion picture that less required a title than this one, for it is Jane and Katherine, the little imps who make their picture in their own way and present it in their own way, captivating their audiences in their own way, a way which it must be admitted has everything cheated on the screen in pictures of this sort.

A most novel innovation seen during the screening of this picture is the mechanical toys carrying on the war on

Coming To The

Plaza

THURSDAY and FRIDAY

Rex Beach's

Greatest Story

The

Spoilers

DON'T FAIL TO SEE IT

The western front.

The western feature, "The Ranger of Pine Ridge," is the augmenting story.

Lawrence Company at Home Again.

No greater testimonial of the appreciation of Phoenix people toward the Lawrence stock company could have been paid that splendid organization than was tendered it Sunday at the Elks theater when two absolute capacity audiences greeted the return of their favorites with applause, cheers and flowers in abundance. It was a tribute that the members will long remember.

The Lawrence company responded to this unusual reception with the presentation of one of the most delightful light comedy-dramas ever seen in this city. "The Daughter of Sunday."

Mother Machree" is one of the sweetest, heart-interest, absorbing plays ever written. The alternate humor and pathos are so nicely balanced that the smiles and tears are intermingled. The story of "The Daughter of Mother Machree" is an absorbing one.

Miss Vilma Steck was made to know that she returns to resume her place in the affections of thousands of admirers. They were present yesterday and the welcome a warm one. All the other favorites were given the glad hand and all responded with a remarkable performance of this delightful play.

"The Daughter of Mother Machree" will be the bill at the Elks theater for the remainder of this week, with matinees on Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday.

Tonight at 8:30

IS

FIGHT FANS NIGHT

AT

MORLEY'S

4--Good Matched Battles--4

Dancing 10 o'clock to 12

RESERVE YOUR TABLES EARLY

Plenty of busses from Union Stage office opposite City Hall. Fare, 25c.

Admission 50 Cents

Reserved Seats on Sale at Owl Cigar Stand

ELKS

THEATRE

Brandon Bros., Mgrs.

717 Phone 717

TONIGHT AND ALL WEEK

DEL S. LAWRENCE CO.

Vilma Steck, Joe Kemper, Margaret Nugent and All the Favorites in the Beautiful Irish Comedy-Drama.

"THE DAUGHTER OF MOTHER MACHREE"

Music Interpolation by Mr. Kemper and Miss Steck.

Prices 30-55-75c—Mats Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday 20-35c.

THE PEACOCK

WALTER WILLIS POWELL, Manager

THE DANCE BEAUTIFUL FROM 8:30 UNTIL 12 O'CLOCK

SUPERB JAZZ ORCHESTRA

GOOD FLOOR

Admission 10c

Ladies Free

Dance 5c Plus War Tax

RICKARDS AND NACE ENTERPRISES

LAMARA

Did you ever know a girl who loved her husband so well that she wanted to elope with another man?

Marguerite Clark

IN

"Let's Elope"

BURTON HOLMES

STRAND

100% Picture Plus

100% Music equals

200% Entertainment

Without question the most emotional drama on the screen.

"THE FALSE FACES"

A Paramount-Artcraft Special

Starring

HENRY B. WALTHALL

Supported by a brilliant cast.

Briggs Comedy Pathe News

STRAND SYMPHONY

ORCHESTRA

Eugene Redewill

Conducting

THE HIP

LAST TIMES TODAY

JANE and KATHERINE

LEE

IN

"Tell It to the Marines"

Added

"THE RANGER OF PINE RIDGE"

A fast and furious western story.

TOMORROW

"BRINGING UP BETTY"

Redewill Music

Company

Redewill Building

222 West Washington St.

Don't be a Dissatisfied Customer.

Of the 4000 pianos we have sold in Arizona the past 38 years we don't know of a single dissatisfied customer.

You would hardly believe the great number of "parlor ornaments" that take the place of pianos—pianos that "GO TO PIECES" here after a season or two.

Buy only makes of pianos and players that have been TIME-TESTED in the dry Arizona climate.

Don't Experiment

IN

Pianos

Turns over thrice

unhurt; car mangled

Why the November roll call?

Because one year ago in November war ceased.

The anniversary is a fitting time to give the Red Cross a vote of confidence.

Your one dollar membership will do that and enable the Red Cross to continue its activities.

Why the necessity of these activities now that the war is over?

Because the devastation caused by war is not over.

For the next year, at least, in addition to the very definite peace program of the organization, the Red Cross will be giving attention to 30,000 returned soldiers, sailors and marines confined in American hospitals and will expend approximately $500,000 monthly in assisting thousands of families of the boys.

Why a Red Cross peace program?

Because the Red Cross is better organized and equipped to act in disaster emergencies, to improve public health, sanitation and nursing conditions than any other existing organization.

It also stands ready to supplement the work of other existing agencies where assistance is needed.

Red Cross work at Corpus Christi, Red Cross on the Mexican border; first aid in the California forest fires; help in the influenza epidemic; aid to vocational soldier students in universities. All these are a part of the Red Cross peace time program.

Why continue to send money for relief abroad?

Because there are still minor obligations the Red Cross is pledged to complete in the devastated countries.

This foreign relief work is all but concluded and a very small percentage of one dollar membership funds secured will be used on the outside of the United States.

Why will the roll call be held more than a month in advance of the expiration of 1919 membership?

Because it is the home coming Christmas of the soldiers. Many families are planning reunions and roll call workers would be difficult to enlist in December.

Turning over thrice unhurt; car mangled. Turning a triple somersault, the Ford car in which Ed Hausgen was driving was completely demolished yesterday while Hausgen who was thrown out on the last turn, escaped without injury.

Amazed at his own good luck, Hausgen sat in the middle of the road after the accident and addressed the crowd: "Gee whiz," he said, "the car is hurt worse than I am."

The accident which caused the wreck of the machine occurred at Pifteenth avenue and the Camelback road when two Fords came together.

Robert Quay who was in the other car was not hurt. As the cars met, his machine came to a dead stop while the other went madly on its way until there was comparatively nothing left of it.

It tipped over three times, according to the account of the collision given at the sheriff's office.

TREKELL WILL BE DIRECTOR OF BANK

F. D. Trekell, a capitalist with large holdings in the Casa Grande valley, stopped off in Phoenix for the fair last Saturday while enroute to his winter home in Los Angeles.

Mr. Trekell, whose personal fortune runs well up into the seven figures, has extensive land and oil interests in Louisiana, is a stockholder in many banks scattered over the United States and was among the first to invest in a big block of stock in the new Commercial National bank soon to be opened in this city.

He has also agreed to act on the directorate of this bank.

Mr. Trekell was loud in his praise of the fair and specially pleased with the exhibit of Casa Grande valley, which he felt would be a second Salt River valley sooner than most of us realized.

Sir Walter Raleigh introduced oranges as well as tobacco to England.

LOVE ROUGH SHOD

RIDES FEARLESSLY

TO SUPREME COURT

Still true to form, the course of true love is running most erratically in the case of Jose Albarado and Candelaria Saldana of Navajo county, even though they are married and therefore at a stage in the course of true love which normally is rated as the goal.

For them, just as the famous old adage provides, the course of true love is running like a flivver on McDowell road.

The otherwise happy bridegroom is before the supreme court on allegations of making a false affidavit in regard to the age of Miss Saldana when he married in Navajo county on or about May 16, 1919.

According to the affidavit, Albarado swore that the young woman was 18 years of age, when, as a matter of fact, it is claimed by her parents that she is no such thing.

The case came up originally in the Navajo county justice court and subsequently reached the superior court there where it was thrown out, the lovers thereupon deciding that they attained a nice smooth stretch in true love's highway.

The smooth stretch was short, however. County Attorney Thomas H. Greer of Navajo appearing as a road boss to chop things up a bit. He filed an appeal yesterday with the state supreme court and now the bride and groom are bumping the bumps again and must wait for the supreme court in due course to say whatever will be said.

The brides' parents, according to the appeal, have thus far neglected to bless the happy couple.

Cork trees grow in Sardinia. A tree is stripped of its bark only once in nine years.

AMUSEMENTS

"His Debt" at the Columbia

How a Japanese gambler paid his debt to the American girl who saved his life by spurring her lover, is depicted in Sessue Hayakawa's latest film offering, "His Debt," which will be offered as the feature attraction at the Columbia theater for the last time today.

The production is one of the best of Hayakawa's releases of the year and affords him many opportunities for the display of his superior talents. It shows him as the king of gamblers, honest but coldly indifferent to the passions of man. Supporting the famous Jap star is Jane Novak, Francis J. MacDonald and Fredrick Montague.

A Current Topics, Pathe travelogue and two-reel Century comedy are the supplementing program numbers for today. For Wednesday only the Columbia theater is offering Geraldine Farrar in "Shadows," one of the best offerings she has ever made.

"Let's Elope" at the Lamara

Marguerite Clark's new Paramount picture, "Let's Elope," which will play a three-day engagement at the Lamara beginning today, is the picture adaptation of the famous stage success of the same name. It tells the story of a dissatisfied married couple, each loving the other devotedly, but selfishly denying the right to happiness to each other, each so thoroughly engrossed in the seeking of their own happiness that they have overlooked the important fact that the happiness of one is contingent on the happiness of the other.

The upshot of the matter is that the wife seeks solace in the company of another man, and other man being of that shallow disposition that he changes his affections from girl to girl with that same ease and alacrity as does a bee in seeking honey from various flowers. But the affair between the wife and the he-vamp concerns another woman, a victim of the charming manner of said he-vamp and this victim refuses to give up her hold on him. Burton Holmes finished out the program with his travelogue.

"The False Face" at the Strand

In what has been reviewed as one of the strongest and most unique photoplays ever written, Henry B. Walthall, surrounded by an exceptionally brilliant cast, comes to the Strand for a three-day stay in the Thomas H. Ince masterpiece, "The False Face." This is a Paramount Artcraft special, produced with absolutely no regard for expense or elaborateness.

The story is one that will grip an audience from the very first foot of film. Its appeal is never ending, growing steadily with the development of the plot. Its punch is a consistent one, always present and always most decided. Its plot strikes home to the heart of every man, woman and child who will see it.

This feature will be offered in conjunction with a Briggs comedy and the Pathe news, with the Strand symphony orchestra, heard in a specially arranged program.

"Baby Grands" at the Hip

The baby grands, Jane and Katherine Lee, finish up their engagement at the Hip with the final showings today of "Tell It to the Marines," that knockout comedy offering which brings them to the city for this stay.